The NDSU Dickinson Research Extension Center has done extensive research on calving ease using Lowline bulls on first-calf heifers and on the performance of the resulting calves in the mainstream market. They then concentrated on studying halfblood (Moderator) Lowline females and found they show an increase of 37% in pounds of beef (weaning weight) produced per acre when using Lowline Moderator females bred to Red Angus bulls. These slides are from Dr. Kris Ringwall's presentation on the research.
