Many breeders travelled a distance to attend the 9th Annual Effertz EZ Ranch Discover Lowlines Weekend. A seminar was held Friday afternoon, June 5, with Lowline beef dinner served Friday night followed by the sale on Saturday. Breeders attended from Oregon, Washington, South Carolina, Iowa, North Dakota and South Dakota with additional absentee buyers from Texas, Montana, New York, Maine, Kansas, Nebraska, Ohio, and Saskatchewan, Canada. There was good discussion and lots of interest during the speakers on Friday that included Dr. Kris Ringwall and Dr. Lauren Hanna who are beginning a new, extensive study, "Impact of frame size, efficiency and longevity on the commercial beef cow herd", at North Dakota State University utilizing Lowline genetics.
